According to Butler Library regulations, in order to apply you must be within seven years of your first date of registration and you must have submitted an approved academic progress form during the current academic year through SSOL.

New regulations state that post-M.Phil. students have a right to individual library space for one academic year only. However, if you are granted space for this academic year, you will be able to re-apply to be wait-listed next year.

Please read the new library policy carefully before answering the following questions. The policy is available on the English Department website.

Name:
Year of Study:
Date:
